 OF COUNSEL

Hearing: August 13, 2008
 Time: 9:30 a.m.

Judge: Hon. James J. Larson,
 Magistrate-Judge

INTRODUCTION

Defendant California Public Utilities Commission (“CPUC” or “defendant”) has filed a motion to dismiss. Plaintiffs CALifornians for Renewable Energy and Stephan C. Volker (collectively “CARE” or “plaintiffs”) have filed a First Amended Complaint in response to the arguments contained in defendant’s motion. The amendments directly address defendant’s arguments. Therefore, in the interest of judicial economy plaintiffs ask this Court to remove defendant’s motion to dismiss

1 from the Court's calendar as moot and vacate the hearing currently calendared
 2 thereon for August 13, 2008 at 9:30 a.m.

3 ARGUMENT

4 Plaintiffs filed their First Amended Complaint in accordance with Rule 5 15(a)(1)(A) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, which provides that "[a] party may 6 amend its pleading once as a matter of course [] before being served with a responsive 7 pleading." FRCP 15(a)(1)(A). The Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals has repeatedly held 8 that "[a] motion to dismiss is not a 'responsive pleading' within the meaning of Rule 9 15," and thus plaintiffs need not seek leave of Court to amend prior to the filing of an 10 answer. Crum v. Circus Circus Enterprises, 231 F.3d 1129, 1130 (9th Cir. 2000), citing 11 Tahoe-Sierra Preservation Council, Inc. v. Tahoe Regional Planning Agency, 216 F.3d
 12 764, 788 (9th Cir. 2000); Miles v. Department of Army, 881 F.2d 777, 781 (9th Cir.
 13 1989) (providing for an amendment to the complaint to add the Secretary of the Army as 14 a defendant after the filing of a motion to dismiss). Thus, plaintiffs amended the 15 complaint "as a matter of course." FRCP15(a)(1)(A).

16 According to black letter law, plaintiffs' First Amended Complaint "supersedes 17 the original" complaint, and thereafter the original complaint is "treated [] as non-18 existent." Bullen v. De Bretteville, 239 F.2d 824, 833 (9th Cir. 1956), citing 71 C.J.S., 19 Pleading, 321; Armstrong v. Davis, 275 F.3d 849, 878 (9th Cir. 2001) ("[A]n amended 20 pleading supersedes the original"). Because defendant's motion addresses the 21 allegations contained in the original complaint, which is now "non-existent," it is moot
 22 and should not be considered by the Court. See, e.g., The Rutter Group, California
 23 Practice Guide: Federal Civil Procedure Before Trial, section 9:262, p. 9-87 (2008).

24 Furthermore, the First Amended Complaint addresses all of the arguments for 25 dismissal in defendant's motion. First, plaintiffs have added all of the Commissioners 26 that made the decisions at stake in this litigation as defendants. This amendment 27 addresses the sovereign immunity defense raised in defendant's motion.

1 Second, plaintiffs elaborate on the Commission's lack of adequate notice to 2 plaintiffs as the gravamen of their claims for relief. Defendant's Johnson Act defense, 3 which requires proof that the Commission's challenged orders were adequately noticed 4 (28 U.S.C. § 1342(3))), therefore must await adjudication until the merits stage of this 5 case. Moreover where, as here, arguments in a motion to dismiss are inextricably bound 6 to the merits of the case, the Court should defer adjudication of the matter until the 7 merits stage of the proceeding. Roberts v. Corrothers, 812 F.2d 1173, 1177 (9th Cir.
8 1987). Because the notice issue in defendant's Johnson Act argument and the notice 9 issues raised in plaintiffs' complaint are inextricably bound together, this Court should 10 not address the issue until it is briefed based on the superseding allegations of the First 11 Amended Complaint. Id.

12 Third, defendant's claims of res judicata and collateral estoppel are likewise 13 moot. Plaintiffs have amended the complaint to negate these claims, explaining that 14 their state court case related only to statutory interpretation of state laws, not to 15 constitutional issues, and that their state case did not adjudicate plaintiffs' constitutional 16 rights. These amendments undercut defendants' res judicata and collateral estoppel 17 arguments.

18 CONCLUSION

19 For these reasons, the First Amended Complaint addresses all of the defenses
20 raised by defendant. Accordingly, on July 16, 2008, plaintiffs' counsel asked 21 defendant to withdraw its motion in light of the amended complaint. See, attached 22 Declaration of Counsel. Defendant has not yet responded. Id.

23 As contemplated in the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, defendant normally 24 would be required to respond to plaintiffs' amended complaint "within 10 days after 25 the service of the amended pleading." FRCP 15(a)(3). However, because plaintiffs 26 have joined new defendants to the case, including five sitting Commissioners (and one 27 prior Commissioner) on the defendant Commission, plaintiffs offer to stipulate with 28

1 defendant to allow defendant(s) more time to file an joint answer or amended motion 2 to dismiss.

8 SUPPORTING DECLARATION OF COUNSEL

9 I, STEPHAN C. VOLKER, hereby declare as follows:

10 1. I am counsel for plaintiffs and have personal knowledge of the following 11 matters.

12 2. I emailed and telephoned counsel for the California Public Utilities 13 Commission, Darwin Farrar, on July 16, 2008 to ask him to discuss the withdrawal as 14 moot of defendant's motion to dismiss.

15 3. Mr. Farrar was not in when I called, so I left him a message to call me to 16 discuss how he wished to proceed. As of the filing of this Request, I have not heard 17 back from Mr. Farrar.

18 I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct of my 19 personal knowledge, and that this declaration was executed in Oakland, California on 20 July 16, 2008.
